HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Tuesday, February 3. 1846.

Prayers being said by the Rev. Mr. Goodell. and the Journal of yesterday being read by the Clerk.
Petitions, &c., were presented by Messrs. HOW-ELL, STEVENSON, FINNELL, McKELLUP and Mr. SPEAKER, which were severally received, &c., and referred.

Mr. BROWN obtained a dispensation for that purpose, and offered the following resolution, which was adopted, to-wit:

Resolved, That on to-morrow, Wednesday, Feb. 4th, and on each day thereafter during the present session of the General Assembly, it shall be the duty of the Speaker, at the hour of 11 o'clock, P. M., to announce a recess of one hour and a half; and that it shall be the duty of the House to meet again at 3 o'clock for the despatch of business.

Mr.CLEAVELAND now obtained leave to change his vote of vesterday on the passage of the bill, entitled, an act to re-model the Judicial Districts, and equalize the labors of the Circuit Judges. He was in favor of the general provisions of the bill, but doubted its constitutionality in one point.

Mr. DUNCAN, who was absent on Saturday at the time of the adoption of the joint resolutions on the subject of the admission of Texas, asked now to have his vote recorded in the affirmative on that question.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was informed by the Clerk, that the year and nays on that question were new printed in the Journal, &c.

REPORTS FROM THE COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS. The-House now resumed the consideration of the unfinished business of yesterday, being a report from the committee on Claims, to-wit: An act for the benefit of Nathan Board and others: The question being on the adoption of the amendment of the gentleman from Breckinridge, [Mr. J. were read a third time and passed, to-wit:

Smith ] to-wit: To strike out from the bill that portion which allows compensation to the Commission port precinct in Hancock county. ers of tax in "Allen county for taking in their lists of taxable property a second time.

Mr. JOS. SMITH said he desired to press the amendment, not-that he believed the compensation to be unjust; nor because he wished to defeat the bill—though he thought he perceived a disposition to vote it down: but because he wished to obtain an expression of the House on the question implied in the amendment.

Mr. ANTHONY supported the bill in its present shape. The amount of the allowance to these Com- said county, and, missioners was but $48; and that compensation had been avowed heretofore.

Mr. HUGHES. These Commissioners had been required to perform extra services arising under a and Elections, to whom had been referred the bill new statute, and they ought to be paid.

Mr. McKELLUP. He was a Commissioner last year, and happened to be caught in the same predicament with the Commissioners of Allen; and he affirmed that the extra labor imposed by the new statute was not so great as that of making out the lists originally. It was only necessary to re-calculate the amounts given in the lists, and correct the per cent. as required by the equilization law. For illustration, where an individual had given in $500-reserving $300, as under the former law, it was only necessary to make the alterations in the book, which would result from adding $200 to the amount on which he was chargeable for tax when the list was first made out, &c.

And after further remarks by Mr. BARLOW and Mr. ANTHONY, the amendment was rejected.

The will was then read a third time. Mr. G. BOWLING, by way of ryder, now pro posed an amendment, to the effect, that all the Conimissioners of tax in the Commonwealth be allowed to retain eight per cent. of the revenue listed under the former law, and re-listed and collected under the present: which was adopted.

And then, on motion of Mr. DALLAM, the bill was laid on the table.

Mr. HARDY, from the committee on Claims, proceeded again with his reports, to-wit:

A bill from the Senate entitled an act for the benefit of Mrs. Diana Magnire-without amendment,

&c.: the bill was rejected. A bill from the Senate entitled an act for the benefit of Philip Lightfoot, Sheriff of Breckinridge coun-

Mr. ALEXANDER proposed to amend by adding a section allowing the Sheriff of Meade county till the first of June to make return of his delinquent list for the year 1845: which was rejected. And then the bill passed.

Mr. II. now reported a motion to discharge the committee on Claims from the further consideration of the netition of John Newby: and they were discharged accordingly.

A Senate message by Mr. Secretary Konlinass, now reported the action of that body on sundry bills,

Mr. HARDY, from the committee on Claims, reported again the bill for the benefit of George W. Fox and others, of Madison county, with the expression of an opinion that it ought not to pass. (The bill proposed indemnification for the loss of horses by individuals iletailed last fall for the execution of the sentence of court in Clay county against Some debate followed upon this bill, in which the proposition was warmly supported by Mr. J. S. SMITH, and Mr. HARDY. And the question being taken on the third reading of the bill, it was lost by yeas 31; nays 60, as follows, to-wit:

YEAS-Mr. Speaker, Mess.'s. Abbett, Balee, Brooks, Cleaveland, L. Combs, Darnaby, Desha, Duncan, Finnell, Glover, Haggard, Hatfield, Hay, Hughes, Hunton, Jackson, Mayes, Myers, Orr, Pope, Riley, Rodman, Joseph Smith, J. Speed Smith, Sparks, Speed, B. Stone, S. Stone, A. W. Thomas and Thurston-31.

REMARKS OF MR. KELLY, of CHRISTIAN, Delivered in the House of Representatives, Saturday, January 31, 1846, pending the consideration of the Texas resolutions. The question being on the adoption of the following amendment, by way of substitute, proposed by Mr. WORTHAM, to-wit:

·Whereas, the Republic of Texas has been ad Mr. HARDY, from the committee on Claims, re- initted into this Union, and become one of the States; norted a bill for the benefit of Juseph B. O'Reare, and, whereas, it is not now necessary for this State with reference to removing a lunatic-providing to take legislative action thereon: therefore, resolvthat the charge be paid by the County Court of ed, that this House will forbear to express opinion, or take action on the subject.

Mr. Speaker: - I cannot vote for the resolutions on your table unless they are amended so as to make them less objectionable than they now are. I was Mr. H., from the same committee, to whom had one of those who opposed the annexation of Texas to the confederacy. But as Texas has been acquired, and she now constitutes part and parcel of this Union, I am perfectly willing that the powerful arm of this Government should defend her as well as the other States of this Union, and that the Ægis of and bringing back to justice a fugitive charged with the Union should be thrown over her and protect her from every assault, let it come from whatever quar-Republic with a hearty welcome; and I will not stultify all my former opinions, without being convinced that those opinions are wrong, by any vote ection, compensating Nathan Board and Richard of mine in this House. Sir, I see no necessity of any action of this House being taken in relation to Texas, any more than in relation to another State of The hour of twelve having arrived, on motion of this Union. It appears to me, sir, it was a party the purpose of receiving reports from standing com- this House in such extra legislation in regard to Texas to gratify any party purpose. I, sir, would be placed in a false attitude before my constituents. were I to vote for or against those resolutions; and year for three years, ending January 1, 1846, for one vote as I may, it will not reflect truly my position. This, sir, is nothing but a political ruse, a Mr. WORTHAM proposed to amend by adding the following section, that $50 be, and are hereby ceive for party purposes, and which, I for one, can ceive for party purposes, and which, I for one, cannot sanction by my vote. I shall therefore, Mr. Speaker, vote for the amendment offered by the gentleman from Grayson, (Mr. Wortham,) most willingly. And if that is not adopted by the House, (and I do not suppose that it will be,) I will if gen tlemen allow me the opportunity, offer another mittee, &c.. and after some time spent in the discus- amendment with a view to modify the resolution in of this point, the amendment was withdrawn. such a manner that will allow me to vote for them-I merely wished to place myself in a proper attitude hefore this House and hefore my constituents. Having made these remarks, sir, I will say no more: less I could not have said.

DEFERRED PROCEEDINGS.

TO USURP OFFICE.

IN SENATE, Monday, Jan. 12, 1846. "A bill to aniend the penal laws," came up in the orders of the day.

The bill was read as follows. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That, if any person shall hereafter usurp any office established by the Constitution or laws of this Commonwealth, or shall hold any such office, after his appointment thereto shall have been declared by a Court of competent jurisdiction, illegal or void, such person shall, on the presentment or indictment of a grand jury, be subject to a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than fifteen hundred dollars, at the discretion of a jury; and upon conviction and failure to pay said fine, shall be imprisoned in the Jail of the county where such offence shall be committed.

Mr. HARRIS moved the following amendment: " Provided, That nothing in this act shall in any wise apply to the contest in relation to the Jailer until such fine, and the costs of the prosecution, are of Franklin county, now or hereafter." Mr. HARRIS. I know not from what cause this bill has been introduced. I have heard of few or no nsurpations of office in this State. Unless the contest between the Franklin County Court and the Court of Appeals, in relation to the office of Jailor of Franklin county has suggested this bill, I cannot conceive what has produced it. I know that in monarchies, and more especially in republics, the offence of usurpation should be punished. But whatever offences may have been committed, I feel satisfied that this bill should not pass, without the proviso I have offered. Suppose a controversy between a County Court and the Court of Appeals, affecting the rights of an other appointed by the former under legal authority to make such appointment, do gentlemen mean to say that this bill, ex post facto, reaches back to that case! The words, "or shall hold any such office," are capable of being so applied.

The Democrats are in a minority on this floor. The Franklin County Court, which is Democratic, has removed a Jailer, who is a Whig. The Court of Appeals have decided the act of removal to be void. I am a law-abiding man. It the Appellate Court have power to execute their decision, let them exercise it; but let us not pass this law to interfere between the Supreme and inferior Courts. I there be no law on the statute book to punish usurpation, that fact may be regarded unfurtunate, but we should not supply the omission merely to reach a single case. I am aware that the Court of Appeals have no original jurisdiction to authorize them to issue a mandamus. But the committee on the Judiciary are too well informed not to know that the Circuit Court has jurisdiction in the premises on an action of trespass on the case. If, therefore, it be the purpose of the bill to interfere in the contest about the office of the Franklin County Jailer, there is no necessity for it. But, sir, the bill will apply to that case. I read the bill and find the penalty attaches, not merely to those who may usurp office, but to those who "shall hold any such office," &c. I am authorized, by my information, to declare that the object of the bill is to punish the Jailer of Franklin county; for no other case of usurpation, or holding on to office after a competent Court declaring the appointment void and illegal, has been heard of. Sir, is it according to the genius and spirit of free institutions to pass expost facto laws? Can it be shown that the operation of this bill will not be expost facto? We have, I grant, a right to prescribe punishment for crimes, but I deny our competency o enact a retrospective law. I do not say what I had I been a member of the Franklin County Court, would have done, on being properly advised of the decision of the Court of Appeals, in the case of Gorham vs. Luckett. But this is a novel case. have a very high respect for the Court of Appeals, though I dissent from its decision in this case. The position of the minority of the Court, (Indge Breck.) n the language of John Q. Adams, "will stand the test of scrutiny, of talents and of time." I ask you, who have power to pass this bill, is it not expost facto, and intended to operate on the Franklin Jailer case! Will the Legislature, for the first time, step in to interfere between the conflicting judicial authorities of the State? The County Courts are established by the Constitution as well as the Court of Appeals. As the Circuit Court has power, by mandamus, to bring the members of the County Court before it and punish them for trespasses, I hope the Legislature will not interfere. And as the common law prescribes remedies for the enforcement of Gorham's rights, if violated, this law is not necessary. If I am correct, as I think I am, that the Circuit Court can issue its mandamus to the County Court, to show cause why they have refused to allow to Gorham the rights and empluments of the office of Jailer, I insist that this case should be exempted from the operation of the law; for it would otherwise be a dangerous precedent. If I am wrong as to what I have alleged to be the object of the bill, all I ask, and the least in such case that could be accorded, is, that the proviso I have offered be accepted by the advocates of the measure.

Mr. PEYTON. I hope the Senate will pass the bill and reject the amendment. The Senator from Floyd (Mr. Harris,) says this is an expost facto He tells us the application of this law to the Franklin County Jailer will give it the effect of an expost facto law. If I understand what is an expost facto law, it is one enacted for, and applied to, punishment of offences previously committed. This bill provides that, if any person "shall hereafter usurp any office," &c., he shall be subjected to a nenalty. This is not expost facto.

I know nothing of the facts of the Franklin County Jailer case, except from common rumur. I do know, however, that the highest judicial tribunal of the State has decided against the right of the County Court to expel a public officer without cause. notice or trial; but that tribunal has no original nower, by specific statute, to enforce such a judgment, and it is the object of this bill to supply a remedy for such eases arising hereafter. How then. can this proposed act operate on the Franklin Jailer case, in the odious sense imputed? If the Juiler of Franklin county be a usurper; if he has been so declared by the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth; and if, after such decision by the highest tribunal, a decision which is the law, and should have the force of the law of the land, why, what right or propriety would there be in the Legislature, to exempt him particularly and expressly from the operation of a general law? Sir, the position of the Senator from Floyd is a monstrous one, and I do not that decision the controversy was decided. It ought eavy him the credit of holding it. Here is a public officer holding to his place, after the Court of Appeals, whose decision is the law of the land, have declared his appointment null and void. Why, then. should be be exempted from penalty, if he shall continue "hereafter" to hold on? Sir, this Senate, by the adoption of the amendment proposed, would sanction this act of usurpation. Should we except any man who usurps an office, or holds on, after the Court of Appeals have decided him out?

per who has been in effect so declared by the Appel-DEBATE ON THE BILL TO MAKE IT A PENAL OFFENCE late Court. If the Jailer of Franklin county hold on after the passage of this bill, its provisions will reach him; but the bill cannot reach back. Is this not proper? Is it proper that an individual shall hold a place in contempt of the decision of the Supreme Court to the contrary, and that the Legislature shall protect a special individual in such con-tumacy? By this amendment, a specified individual is excepted, no matter though a Court of competent jurisdiction may "hereafter" decide him a usurper.

Mr. FOX. I am as much opposed as any one else to expost facto laws; and though I am unwilling to stand in opposition to the Senator from Floyd, I am constrained to reject his amendment. But this is no expost facto law. Its provisions apply to such acts of usurpation alone as may be committed hereafter. The law intends to operate on the future. Suppose we pass a law, requiring a tavern keeper, who had sold liquors before, to swear he will not sell spirituous liquors hereafter, and affixing a penalty, should be violate his oath; the law would not ounish him for having sold liquor heretofore, but, for doing it after its passage. Or. suppose we make it a penul offence to atter blasphenious oaths, it would not be expost facto in its operation bereafter, for oaths hereafter attered, on persons hereinfore in the habit of profane swearing. Are we not competent to pass such a law! Precisely similar in principle is the bill on the table. I know nothing of this Jailer case, except what I learn through the Court Appeals. The man now in the office of Jailer of Franklin county, refuses to obey the decision of the Supreme Court. The bill does not propose to punsh him for what he has done, but for what he, like any other usurper or contemner of judicial authority, may do. The Senator says there are remedies at nmon law in the Circuit Court for the ousted Jailer. But they are only individual remedies They do not protect the dignity of the Commonwealth, outraged by acts of usurpation. They will remain to the individual, even should this bill pass. Does the Senator from Floyd want the Jailer of Franklin, or any one else, to hold an office in violation of He emleavors to have this bill put down, be-13 W. ? cause he alleges it is suggested by an individual case. Sir, individual cases often give rise, very properly, to general legislation. So in this case. And so far from the fact militating against the propricty of the law, it affords an absolute illustration of its necessity; for if a general law be not founded on this case, who can tell how many similar acts of usurpation may not follow? If we now fail, when we have seen the necessity of punishing usurpation, to make the offence penal, our recusancy will be a virtual invitation to the repetition of the offence. In my county, the County Court are Whig and the Jailer a Democrat. Could they remove him withont notice, without trial, without cause? I deny it and should resist such an act of unjust proscription. This is no party question and I regret that the Senntor contemplates it in that aspect. If party objects were sought by the bill, they could not be attained; for its operation would in such view be different in lifferent counties. The County Court of Lincoln, for example, could, if the act of the Franklin Connty Court was in virtue of lawful anthority, remove its Democratic Jailer. All parties ought to go for this bill, for it is designed to protect equally the rights of all parties, and to vindicate the dignity of the Commonwealth against insults perpetrated by usnepers, not merely of individual rights, but of public offices. It is as much our duty to protect public offices from asurpation, as private property from spaliation; and such an act is but a proper assertion of the rights of the whole people, to whom the offices of government virtually belong. All parties are equally interested in this bill, both the white and red roses; and if any one shall hereafter violate this law by an act of usurpation being fairly warned, his blood be on his own head. Mr. HARRIS. The redress for this alleged wrong is already ample in existing laws. If Gorham has been forced illegally from the enjoyment of his rights and emoluments as Jailer, let him seek redress at law. He can obtain ample redress by an ction of trespass on the case. Then in that point of view, there is no necessity for this law. It has leaked ont here, as I supposed it would, that the Franklin Jailer case, is the foundation of this bill. The remedy at law for this alleged wrong, is admitted. It has been conceded that the Court of Appeals has power to enforce their ilecisions. Mr. PEYTON. The Senator misconceived me, if he understood me to say the remedy for such a case as this is perfect.

Mr. HARRIS. I am happy to be corrected. The remedy for this case, is an action of trespass on the case. The Commonwealth has no power to remedy the evils complained of in this bill. The County Court can be impeached and compelled to admit Gorham to the enjoyment of his rights. It is denied that this bill is expost facto. I request attention to its phraseology: " or shall hold any such office."-Why, sir, the next day after its passage the law applies punishment to the Jailer of Franklin. Is that not expost facto! Is this not holding the Jailer and Magistrates usurpers and giving judgment that they shall be subjected to penalties, as summarily as a Justice would give indement on a debt of twenty-five cents or a Circuit Court of one hundred dol-

Mr. Speaker, I am, and ever have been, a law abiding man. I have always been opposed to all unconstitutional relief measures, and for the Constitution. If I had been a member of the Franklin County Court, I should have acquiesced in the deision of the Court of Appeals, though I think that decision was wrong. But that is the Supreme Court to which the interior judicial tribunals are bound to yield obedience. Had I been the new Jailer. I should have given up the office when the Court of Appeals ilecided against me, and appealed to the people. But as a Senator, I am opposed to this bill, believing the remedy now exists to punish refractory members of the County Court. The County Court had the right by the act of 1793, to appoint, and by the act of 1802, to remove Jailers. But, as a citizen and lawver, I am bound to yield to the usurpation of the Court of Appeals, and I regard the action of the County Court revolutionary. But as a Senator, I cannot say, with this bill, that Luckett should be fined $500 or $1500 for obeying the County Court, who have power by law to appoint and remove Jailers. I call on the Senate to panse before passng this bill; and am extremely sarry so profor awyer as the Senator from Lincoln, (Mr. Fox,) should be found supporting it.

Mr. HARDIN. I do not propose to discuss the lecision of the Court of Appeals in the Franklin Jailer case. It is enough for me to know that by not therefore to enter into the consideration of this bill; for it ought to be acknowledged by all disciplined minds, that the decision of the Court of Appeals is the supreme law. It is the highest judicial tribunal known to the Constitution, empowered finally to decide all legal controversies.

This bill should not be considered to have an ex post facto operation on any individual. I do not profess to understand any thing about the Franklin Jailer case, except from the decision of the Court of Sir, the principles of this bill are founded in wis- Appeals. Sir, the proposition of dictary, with the following instructions: the amendment is utterly preposterous, and the Senator who proposed it, occupies no enviable position,

I would be far from trampling on the Constitution, the fundamental, organic law of the land, adopted for the whole people. The Senator admiss that the Jailer in question holds on in violation of the opinion of the Court of Appeals, whose decision he also admits is the supreme law. What question then can be made against this bill which, precribing punishment for affences hereaf-is necessary to vandicate the dignity of the Commonwealth and the rights of the people?

Mr. HELW. I shall not make a speech, but offer a suggestion or Iwn. If this bill he expost facto in punishing them. I think by the statutes, the proper duties of the Courts should be defined. Mr. BUTLER. It is true, as declared by the Senator from Fluyd, that the County Courts, as well as the Court of Appeals, have their origin in the Constitution. It is also true that the powers and jurisdiction of the County Courts are matters of legislative regulation. By the act of 1799, the Connty Courts had power to appoint Juilers, and by the act of 1802, in a specified contingency, to remove them. It is also a fact that the Franklin County Court removed the Jailer, without notice, charge or trial, when the law of 1502 only gives power to refied to the County Court, that inferior tribunal has case. This is the highest course of action, being founded on practical observation and experience; usurp office, we must act on the single case we already know of; or otherwise, our dereliction to duty will soon invite the commission of so many more dividual wrong to the onsted Jailer. Far from it. It is a gross outrage against all the people of the Commonwealth, an indignity and in-ult to the government, which merits signal punishment.

It should be amended so as to provide punshment on all the parties to the transgression, to the County Court as well as to the Jailer.

It is objected to the bill that it is expost facto. It need not be again repeated, that it applies punishment only for acts committed "hereafter." By the progress of this bill through the two Houses, all parties are significantly warned. The moment it ecomes a law, the usurper is fully admonished that he becomes a new trespasser and usurper. If, in defiance of all these public warnings, he hold on with a usurper's iron grasp to his place, he richly deserves all the penalties denounced by the law.

IMPORTANT NEWS-TWELVE DAYS LATER. -The bark Paria, Capt. Kinney, arrived at this purt yes. A terday morning from Vera Cruz. By her we have received our files from Vera Cruz to the 11th, and from the City of Mexico to the 8th. The news is very important.

The city was filled yesterday with contradictory runors in regard to Mr. Slidell. The report at first credited was that he had been ordered from the Kemblic; that he therenpon demanded an escort from Jalapa to Vera Cruz, which was refused to him; hat Commander Gerry, of the Somers, then lying at Vera Cruz, upon this proceeded with a detach-ment of officers and marines to escort Mr. Slidell to the coast, a distance of some 70 or 80 miles. We do not attach much credit to this rumor-it appears appossible. Again: a letter dated the 9th, Vera Cruz says, that up to that date Mr. Slidell had not demanded of the new government any recognition of his official capacity, but the popular belief was that such recognition would be refused. Another letter dated the 13th says: "Mr. Slidell has demanded his passports, having failed in the object of his mission." This appears to us the more probable version. The Mexican papers before as say nothing on the subject.

A number of important despatches were received by the Pario, which were yesterday forwarded to Washington by mail.

The revolution in Mexico appears to be complete. Before entering the city of Mexico conferences were held between Gen. Paredes and Gen. Valencia, at Fundaloupe, close by the capital.

-Gen. Paredes had previously addressed a letter to Gen. Herrera, announcing his inexorable determination to carry through the revolution. The latter appears to have yielded his authority to Gen. Valena without a struggle.

The Assembly of Notables met on the 3d instant. Gen. Tornel was chosen President, and General Almonte, and another, secretaries. Gen. Paredes was their manimonly chosen President of the Republic. On the 4th inst. the oath was administered in great

The gentleman from Camberland has been constantly in his place as usual. The gentleman from Montgomery also, was in his place again on yesterday.
